

Environmental Policy

Cooling & Heating Sales Ltd is a wholesale distributor to the air conditioning, heating and refrigeration industries. We have a fully equipped office (converted stables) and a warehouse, in the Essex countryside. We supply an extensive range of products, which are either delivered direct to site from our suppliers, or we have a company van and delivery driver who delivers equipment directly from our warehouse. We also install equipment on site using our team of contractors.

The Policy

We recognise that our operations inevitably have an effect on the environment, and we wish to minimise the potentially harmful effects of our activities as much as reasonably possible. Protecting the environment is therefore one of our key responsibilities and part of our values and principles as a Company.
